

16) Penn State Clinical & Translational Sciences Institute (CTSI) and Survey Research Center

Equipment and Research Support Services

University Park: 15B Henderson Hall; College of Medicine and Hershey: C1742K (1st floor across from Au Bon Pain)

University Park: Dee Bagshaw, 814-865-4302, ddm108@psu.edu;

College of Medicine (Hershey): Charity Sauder, 717-531-5619, csauder@pennstatehealth.psu.edu

Survey Research Center (University Park): Diana S. Crom, dsc15@psu.edu, 814-863-0170

Consultation Services: Biostatistics, Epidemiology and Research Design, Community Engaged Research, Informatics, Regulatory Support and Ethics, Teams and Collaboration and more.

Pilot Funding: Seed funding to stimulate and promote innovative research that transcends departments, colleges and disciplines to generate novel ideas. Enhancement funding to generate engagement with key stakeholders and communities.

Workforce Development + Education: Certificate programs, degree programs, experiential programs, mentoring programs, regulatory training, seminar series, pre-doctoral and junior faculty development training programs.

Research Tools and Resources: Clinical research support services, core facilities and services, grant writing assistance, secure data capture and cohort discovery tools.

Networking and Collaboration Opportunities: Events to stimulate powerful interdisciplinary research teams and tools to streamline the process of identifying collaborators. Visit ctsi.psu.edu for more information on CTSI programs and services.

Request CTSI services at bit.ly/PennStateCTSI