

34) WE ARE for Science

K-12, Community engagement, Diversity and Inclusion

Penn State University, University Park

Grayson Doucette, Virginia Marcon, Helen Gall

Email: weareforscience@gmail.com

Website: <http://sites.psu.edu/weareforscience/>, Twitter: @WeAreForScience

WE ARE for Science is a coalition of allied organizations that support the accurate representation of science in policy, education and society, while promoting the success of a diverse generation of scientists. We are comprised of three primary working groups that focus on: Security, safety and promoting inclusion of a diverse community, Science communication to the general public (K-12 and the voting public), and Science advocacy and policy. Having a diverse member base, we have organized and mobilized students for a variety of programs including activities at local schools, science booths at community events, speaker events for professional development, and more. With our network of organizations and students we will work with you to develop program goals that can be sustainable and in any of our working group directions.